Accounting for Railway Accidents.
From the San Francisco Chronicle.
The derailment of trains on the South Pacific Coast Railroad through track jumping, which has been notably frequent of late, is attributed by railroad employes to the excessive oscillation of the locomotive and tender, produced by a new method of breaking joints in track laying, adopted as an experiment on the narrow-gauge line.

In ordinary track laying it is the custom to bring the rail joints on each side of the track on the same tie. On the South Pacific Coast Railroad the joints alternate at the center of the opposite rail. As a result the jar received by the locomotive and tender in passing over each joint has thrown them first one way, then the other, the regulacity of the oscillation conforming wit the length of the rail and the reproductio of the joints, and its violence augmenting with increased speed. As a consequence the motion of the locomotive under suc-conditions in time swings the tender and itself clear of the rails to its own destruc-tion. So convinced has the railroad manage-ment become of the correctness of the theory of the roadmen that it has decided to abandon the new system of breaking and a wheel factory in Virginia.

Ante-Betrothal Precautions.

From the Chicago Post.
Being a wise man he desired to take no chances.

"Of course, you understand." he said, by way of preface. "that I have plenty of female relatives?"

"Certainly." she answered, somewhat nonplused.

"I have four sisters already," he went on, "and any number of cousins."

"I realized that." she returned, "but I fall to see how it interests me."

"Only indirectly," he said. "Before saying what I have to say I merely desire to have it understood that I have my full quota of relatives of that description. Do I make myself clear?"

"I think I grasp your meaning," she answered.

"In that case," he announced, "I will ask
